Koln is a big city the the west of Germany. It is also the country's most leading port along the Rhine River. The big city began with a group of farmers living on the west bank of the Rhine. In the 1500s, Koln became an important farming town. Then around the year 1850, Koln already had more than one hundred thousand people that made it a very big city at that time. Ever since, the number of the city's people has been growing.

Today, Koln is also famous because of its works of art. The most well-known arts are the churches built by the farmers long time ago. These churches were once the centers for the farmers to pray for a good harvest. Now people still like to go there, but most of them go for visiting works of art inside. Museums are also good places for people to see works of art. Also, many old buildings are good works of art themselves. Koln's city walls, though aged hundreds of years, are kept very good. As for the old railway bridges, they are now beautiful sights for visiting. Best of all, Koln holds music festivals for months, and this makes the city fill with art smell all year round.

Koln, a big city in Germany, does not just lie in its west quietly. It always welcomes people to see its different art faces.

Look Who's Behind You!

This Summer's Most Hilarious Movie

Susie's World was adapted from a hit novel written by a world-famous writer, Nancy Whitman. In this interesting and heart-warming movie, a tiny fairy, Susie, lives with her family in a carpenter's shop. They like standing behind Jack, the carpenter, and watch him work. Little by little, they learn how a chair, a desk, or a bed is made. Jack is so busy with his work that he never notices there is someone behind him. Then one day, something strange happens and it is the start of fun and friendship...
