It's said that about 40% of people sleepwalk at some time during their lives. That is, 1.

Sleepwalking happens while one is sleeping.

Sleepwalkers walk slowly around the house, say something, and then go back to sleep. 2 and look right through you as if they were not sleeping. The next day, they remember nothing when being asked about what happened the night before. It is a common problem for many children between 4 to 12 years old. 3 If one of the parents is a sleepwalker, their children may be, too. Scientists still don't know why people sleepwalk, but they find common facts that may lead to sleepwalking. For example, if one is under a lot of stress, gets sick or doesn't have enough sleep, 4. Sleepwalking itself isn't bad, but it can be dangerous because the sleepwalkers are in fact "sleeping" and don't know 5, such as going down the stairs. It is important to keep sleepwalkers from falling down, running into something, and even walking out to drive. First, try not to wake a sleepwalker because it may make him / her scared. All you have to do is show the sleepwalker the way back to the bed. Second, close the windows and doors to stop sleepwalkers from going out. Third, keep dangerous things such as knives away from sleepwalkers. Remember, if you find someone sleepwalking, the most important thing is to make sure they are safe.

◆ 七、閱讀測驗：每題 1 分，共 5 分。

Have you heard of “Mayday”? You may be thinking it’s nothing other than a very popular Taiwanese rock band. But do you know it’s also an emergency call no airplane pilot ever wants to make? Why? Because it means they are in the worst kind of trouble ever possible in the air. Mayday call got its start as an emergency call in 1923. Frederick Mockford, a senior radio officer at Croydon Airport in London, was asked to think of a word that would easily be understood by all pilots and ground people in an emergency even over weak radio. So he came up with the word “Mayday”. It is from French “m’aider,” which means “come help me” and sounds like “Mayday” in English.

In order not to mistake “Mayday” for other words, the call is always given three times in a row in an emergency. A Mayday call has to be taken very seriously because it is a strong cry for help. In the USA, it is a crime to make a fake Mayday call. Doing so may get you behind bars for up to six years and give you a fine of up to $250,000.

A Mayday call from an airplane is the same as an SOS from a ship. Today both “Mayday” and “SOS” are used to show many kinds of emergency. Next time when you hear people shout “Mayday,” you know there is something wrong and you need to take action right away.
